

Contents

Editor's Introduction	ix
-----------------------	----

Part One: New Shakespearean Vistas

The Rival Poet of Shakespeare's Sonnets	2
Dating Shakespeare's Sonnets 78 to 100	12
Every Word Doth Almost Tell My Name	18
The Order of Shakespeare's Sonnets	24
Hamlet and the Two Witness Rule	33
Ophelia's False Steward	44
Hamlet and Surrey's Psalm 8	46
Hamlet and Piers Plowman : A Matter of Conscience	61
I. Hire and Salary	63
II. Slings and Arrows, Whips and Scorns	66
III. The Soul in Action	76
IV. Reading Hamlet by Langland's Light	80
V. Conclusion	86
Appendix I	89
Appendix II	90
The Nature of King Lear	97
Edmund	98
Cordelia	104
Lear	107
The Mystery of Things	111
The Promised End	114
Conclusion	116
The Role of Time in Macbeth	128
The Concepts of Time and Eternity	130
Time in Acts I-III of Macbeth	131
Time in Acts IV-V of Macbeth	135
Epicureanism	136
As Fast as Time	141
Lady Macbeth and Eternity	142
Shakespeare's Iago and Santiago Matamoros	147
A Biblical Echo in Romeo and Juliet	149
Kill, Kill, Kill	152

Part Two: An Oxfordian Foundation

The Abysm of Time: The Chronology of Shakespeare's Plays	156
Chambers' «Given»	158
Chambers' Errors	159
Did Shakespeare's Plays Begin in the 1580s?	162
Do Shakespeare's Plays Continue to 1613?	169
A Statement of the Dating Problem	172
Comedy of Errors : France at War with her Heir	174
Romeo and Juliet : The Earthquake	178
King John : A Question of Priority	179
1 Henry IV : Gabriel Harvey's Pamphlet	181
Henry V : Essex in Ireland	183
As You Like It : The Death of Marlowe	185
Hamlet : The Question of the Earlier Version	185
Macbeth : Equivocation and Gunpowder	186
Pericles : John Day's Law Tricks	187
Tempest : Is Bermuda Necessary?	189
Conclusions	193
Ben Jonson's «On Poet-Ape»	200
A Theory on The Two Noble Kinsmen	203
Shake-hyphen-speare	208
The Demolition of Shakspeare's Signatures	211
Experts Prove Shakespeare Had a University Education	214
Groatworth and Shake-scene	219
Masked Adonis and Stained Purple Robes	224
Neglected Praise of the 17th Earl of Oxford	231
The Lame Storyteller, Poor and Despised	234
Runaway Wit	234
Lame	236
Poor and Despised	239
Shakespeare's Astronomy	244
Suffolk's Head and Royal Behavior	246
The Fable of the World, Twice Told	248
The Earl of Oxford and the Order of the Garter	263
Oxford in Venice: New Light on an Old Question	275
Claremont McKenna College's Shakespeare Clinic:
Who Really Wrote Shakespeare	282

Demonography 101: A Review of Alan Nelson's Monstrous Adversary	288
I. A Nelson Sampler	289
II. The Howard-Arundel Affair	294
III. Nelson's Style	302
IV. Reading Nelson Against the Grain	305
V. Conclusion	308
The Stella Cover-Up	312
Developments in the Case for Oxford as Shakespeare	322
Needed Improvements	323
Essentials	327
Developments
1. Shakespeare had a University Education	334
2. Stratford Theory at Stake in Unnoticed Debate Over King John	336
3. Shakespeare and the Law; the Testimony of Arthur Underhill	338
4. The Demolition of Shakspere's Signatures	341
Bibliography	344